DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 13, 14, 18-21, and 23, drawn to a method of treating cancer.

Group II, claim(s) 15, drawn to a method to prevent resistance to anticancer agents

Group III, claim(s) 16-17, drawn to a method of improving adsorption of an orally administered anticancer agent.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

FAGIN J A: "Perspective: Lessons learned from molecular genetic studies of thyroid cancer: Insights into pathogenesis and tumor-specific therapeutic targets" ENDOCRINOLOGY, BALTIMORE, MD, US, vol. 143, no. 6, June 2002 (2002-06), pages 2025-2028, reports the use of imatinib mesylate for the treatment of chronic myelogenous leukemia (page 2026, right-hand column, 2nd paragraph). Therefore, the special technical feature is not the application of the compound.

The special technical feature of Group I is unclear.

The special technical feature of Group II appears to then be the method to prevent resistance of anticancer agents.

Finally, the special technical feature of Group III appears to be the method of improving adsorption of an orally administered anticancer agent.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows for all groups:

- A. Type of cancer to be treated, and
- B. Anti-cancer agent.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Type of cancer to be treated is disclosed in claim 23,
Anti-cancer agents are disclosed in claims 19-20.

The following claim(s) are generic: 13-20 and 22-23.

Art Unit: 1609

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The disclosed cancers range from colon cancer to acute myeloid leukemia. The special technical feature would then be the activity with the composition, which is different for various types of cancer cell.

The disclosed anti-cancer agents treat different activities that are related to cancer. Without a common reactivity site, the special technical feature of each is the ability to treat cancer in an independent manner.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Inventorship Notice

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
